Dear Georgia Chapter AAA Members,

Very special thanks to you for your support of your Georgia AAA Chapter in 2010 and for your continued enthusiasm and membership. Although 2011 has gotten off to a slow start we feel that the future promises a strong finish in spite of the current economic and political turmoil. While aviation is very much affected by this recession we are all united in this cockpit of Flying!

Our 2011 goals are recruiting new members, publishing a quarterly newsletter and getting our Chapter website up and running. Funding continues to be a challenge but we are not unique in this respect to other aviation clubs and groups. As a matter of interest we have about 87 members of which 35 are lifetime members and 37 receive our newsletters by email.

We have the very unique distinction of now having the oldest member in AAA, Evelyn Bryan Johnson, 101 years, who has the FAI record of 57,635.4 hours. She has the most flying time of any woman and also is the oldest flight instructor in the world. Her favorite aircraft is the J-3 Cub! Our youngest member is Christopher Gill, 21 years old and a senior in Electrical Engineering at Georgia Tech.

We are very fortunate to have Ron Alexander's Peachstate Aerodrome as the home for our Georgia Chapter AAA. The Candler Field Museum is the outstanding replica of the original 1929 Atlanta Airport and celebrates the "Golden Age" of Aviation. Several members have expressed an interest in more family oriented social events and some of you attended Ron's Benefit Dance held at the Museum on March 19th. If there is enough interest we may hold a dinner meeting sometime during the Thanksgiving or Christmas season.

Our schedules of 2011 events currently scheduled are as follows:
